'A Patchwork Print'

1-day Printmaking Workshop
for all levels
with Printmaker Susan Yeates

In this 1 day workshop, students will create a group 'patchwork' print from individual elements created by themselves. Lino blocks will be used to create the individual elements to the patchwork, focusing on a subject matter of the students choice. One colour and several colour 'patches' using the reduction method will be developed. This interesting and challenging group workshop is an introduction to relief printing, a great way to interact with other artists, to share ideas and work as a team on this specific project. No printmaking experience is necessary and all materials are provided. Each student will be able to take away a full complete print as well as individual prints of their lino blocks.

Suitable for complete beginners as well as experienced artists and students.
Lots of demonstrations and help - try something new!
All specialist materials included including inks, rollers and paper.
